

I wanted to comment on a national Do Not Call" rule.
When considering this please do not made a rule that is less than the states rule.
I live in Indiana and the new rule SHOULD NOT be less than the Indiana's Telephone Privacy law.
I used to receive 5 to 10 calls per day from companies I had never heard of.
We also received several hang up calls from automatic dialing machines.
Since the Telephone Privacy law went into affect we have received no hang up calls that we could not identify the caller.
We also receive no calls from companines that we did not ask them to call.
I recently had a new phone line and number installed in my house.
The second day after the installation I hooked a phone to the line to check it out.
Within 1 hour we received an unsolicited commercial call (this line was not on the NO CALL LIST.
Unbelievable huh?
The no call list has been wonderful.
Please do not hurt my family by overriding Indiana's law.
If you want to make a law for states that do not have a law go ahead. But don't change Indiana's quite evening meals.

Thank you,

Paul Kiningham
